

NATIONAL COAL MINING MUSEUM

Share a Christmas Dinner, Share a Smile

This festive season, the National Coal Mining Museum for England is hosting a free Christmas lunch for socially isolated and elderly residents of former mining communities and local community groups.

We're inviting companies to help us bring people together by contributing to the cost of a festive meal and activities.

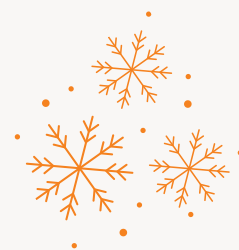

Why It Matters:

Christmas can be a lonely time for many.

This event is about connection, community, and celebrating local mining heritage over a warm, welcoming meal.

Help us bring communities together this Christmas.
